Objectives and Investment Policy

The Fund has the investment objective of achieving running capital appreciation and generating running income, while taking into account the risks involved.

Salus Alpha RN Special Situations pursues a "total return investment strategy," with the objective of generating positive performance, while taking the market situation and the respective risk into consideration, and/or maintaining the invested capital.

"Special situations" are defined as investment opportunities resulting from changes in the capital structure or the ownership structure or from any other event relevant for the future or for the income prospects, such as changes in management or strategy, share buybacks, restructurings, buyouts or partial sales, privatizations, initial public offerings, capital increases, or even considerable income deviations.

The unit holder may ask that the units be redeemed at the current redemption price on each trading day – subject to trade suspension due to exceptional circumstances.

Distribution of the income for the unit certificate class with ISIN AT0000A0GYY7 is possible as of March 1. For all other unit classes, the income remains in the Fund, thereby increasing the value of the units.

Recommendation: Under certain circumstances, this Investment Fund is not suitable for investors who want to withdraw their money within a 5 year period.

Management of the Fund has been delegated and is being carried out by Salus Alpha Capital GmbH, Wegacker 42, 9493 Mauren, Liechtenstein.

Risk and Income Profile

The risk/income profile is related to the past and cannot be taken as a reliable indication of the risk/income profile in the future.

A Category 1 rating does not mean that the investment concerned is risk-free.

Due to measured price fluctuations of the Fund or a comparable portfolio or due to applicable risk management, the risk was given a Category 4 rating.

The risk rating may change over time.

The following are RISKS that are not adequately covered by the risk rating and yet are significant for the Fund:

Credit risk: The risk that an issuer or counterparty cannot meet its obligations. Along with the general tendencies of the capital markets, the particular developments of the respective issuer may also affect the price of a security. For instance, even when securities are selected with the greatest of care, losses arising from financial collapse suffered by issuers cannot be ruled out.

Liquidity risk: The risk that a position cannot be liquidated on time at an adequate price. This risk may also affect the liquidity of the Investment Fund.

Risk of default: The Investment Fund concludes transactions with various counterparties. There is the risk that such counterparties will not be able to pay the claim of the Investment Fund – for instance, due to insolvency.

Operational risk, custody risk: The Investment Fund may suffer losses caused by the failure of internal procedures/systems or by external events (e.g. natural catastrophes). With respect to the custody of securities or derivatives on which the Investment Fund is based, the Investment Fund bears the risk of losing assets due to insolvency, breaches of due diligence, or abusive conduct on the part of the custodian or sub-custodian.

Risk from the use of derivatives: The Investment Fund may use derivative transactions both for the purpose of hedging and as an active investment instrument, which may increase the risk of value fluctuations.

A detailed representation of all Investment Fund risks is provided in the securities prospectus.

Costs

The extracted fees are used for managing the Fund. They also include the costs for selling and marketing the Fund units. Extracting these costs reduces the potential growth.

One-time costs before and after making the investment:

Issue surcharges and redemption fees	up to 5.55% none
---	---------------------

These entail the maximum amount that will be deducted from your assets before the investment is made. The current rate of fees may be requested at any time at the sales office or reviewed on the Internet at www.valartifunds.at.

Costs deducted from the Fund over the course of the year:

Running costs	2.49%
----------------------	-------

The "running costs" were calculated based on numbers from the last financial year ending on 12/31/2014. The "running costs" entail remuneration for management as well as all fees levied during the past year. Transaction costs are not included in the "running costs." The "running costs" may vary from one year to the next. A detailed representation of the cost components that make up the "running costs" can be found in the current statement of accounts, subitem "Expenditures."

Costs that may have to be borne by the Fund under certain circumstances:

Fees tied to the growth of the Fund	not applicable
